THE TORY PROGRAMME.

TOPICS WHICH WILL BE DISCUSSED AT THE PARTY'S COMING CONFERENCE.

THE GOVERNMENT'S TRISH POLICY TENDING TO COERCION-MOUTHINGS OF ANARCHISTS-DULNESS ON THE LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE-MR. GLADSTONE'S

NEW PHYSICIAN. " (Copyright; 1898: By The United Press.) London, Nov. 11.-The arranging of the programme for the annual conference of the Conservative National Union was finished only last night. The programme as finally announced presents nothing new. It avoids making any declarations on the questions of electoral re-form, the disestablishment of the Church in Wales, or other political issues on which it would be dangerous to commit the party. Lord Dunraven will preside at the conference, and Lord Salisbury will make a speech, On the second day Sir Ellis Ashmead Bartlett will move the adoption of a resolution approving the rejection by the House of Lords of the Home Rule bill, which resolution will be unanimously adopted. Sir Albert Kaye Rollit, M. P., will speak in favor of boards of arbitration for the settlement of trades disputes. Arthur Hugh sters, it was found that the idea of dismissal Smith-Barry, M. P., will call the attention of the conference to the time wasted by Parliament in discussing an impossible Home Rule bill. Among the more prominent resolutions to be submitted will be one affirming that Great Britain is suffering from the abject submission of Parliament to the demands of Irish dema-

Viewed as a whole, no emptier programme was ever submitted to a great party caucus. It is significant that nothing is said in the prosignificant that nothing is said in the programme about forcing the dissolution of Parliament. The Conservative cue now being followed by the press and on the platform represents the Government as certain to be ousted at the next session, either on the measure programment and the next session, either on the measure programment and the next session, either on the measure programment and the next session. The fidelity of the anti-Parnellites, on which the Government will depend for its existence, is being subjected to a heavy strain. The visit of Home Secretary Asquith to Dublin for the purpose of conferring with Mr. Morley, Chief Secretary for Ireland, was fruitless of result, so far as benefit to the Irish political prisoners and evicted tenants is concerned. Mr. Morley was in favor of making concessions on these questions to the Irish members of Parliament, but his policy was overidden by Mr. Asquith. The latter's return from Dublin has been followed by a sequence of coercive measures simliar to those which were enforced during the term of office of Mr. Balfour as Chief Secretary. Eleven of the most popular men in Connaught have been selected for prosecution by the Liberal Government, which entered office pledged to end coercion, to restore evicted tenants to their holdings and to dismiss from office resident. that paper. The speeches were outrageous. In an interview to day Samuels said that the hypocritical comments on the Anarchists which had appeared in the newspapers were the veriest nonsense. They appeared side by side with stories reporting the slaughter of Matabele and the starvation of English miners. bomb-throwing in Barcelona was only the beginning of reprisals upon the rich and those in power. The people of the United States would yet make reparation for the hanging of the Chicago Anarchists.

China, some time ago, having issued an edict forbidding the importation of machinery, representations were made to Lord Rosebery, the Foreign Minister, as to the less which British manufacturers would sustain Lord Rosebery has sent instructions to the Prifish Minister at Pekin to protest vigorously against the prohibition as a violation of the treaties with Great Britain. The prohibition is due to the fact that Li Hung Chang, the Viceroy of Petchi-Li, and several other Chinese officials are about to start cotton spinning mills in Shanghai.

The collapse of business at the Stock Exchange is phenomenal. Dealers concur in the opinion that the present is the worst period within memory. Several firms are dissolving partnership and retiring from business. The clerical staffs in the offices are being reduced, and business economies are being practised in every direction. rection.

The course of prices in the silver market has completely faisfiled the pessimistic convictions that a fall-would inevitably follow the repeal of the silver purchase clause of the Sherman act by the American Congress. The financial papers give various explanations of the strength of the market. Summed up, these explanations are that there is a strong demand for silver for China and Japan, while the great silver-mining companies continue to hold their stocks. Then, too, the report that the American Treasury Department had ordered the coinage of a portion of the metal bought under the Sherman act is admitted to have been of assistance in portion of the metal bought under the Sherman act is admitted to have been of assistance in averting the expected troubles. "The Economist" holds that the action of the American Treasury would have been better advised if that department had made provision for its wants by issuing bonds. In the mean time, it says, it has had recourse to purely American Mr. Gladstone has selected as his physician, to succeed Sir Andrew Clark, who was buried te-day, William Henry Broadbent, who is one to-day, William Henry Broadbent, who is one of the three Physicians in Ordinary to the Prince of Wales. Mr. Gladstone's extreme age makes it necessary that an almost daily medical supervision be kept over him. Dr. Clark advised Mr. Gladstone that, failing himself, Dr. Broadbent or Dr. Richard Douglas Powell, a Physician Extraordinary to the Queen, be sedected. At the funeral to-day of his physician and friend Mr. Gladstone looked bent and broken, but he straightened up as he left Westminster Abbey after the ceremonies had been ended.

Queen Victoria will go to Florence at the end of the month. She will remain there three weeks, and will then go to Naples. King Hum-bert has offered for her use his villa Capodi-monte, which is on a hill back of Naples.

TWENTY-ONE PEOPLE INSTANTLY KILLED. DISASTROUS EXPLOSION OF ETHER IN A POLISH CHEMIST'S SHOP.

Warsaw, Nov. 11.-A dispatch from Brest-Litovsk, a town of Russian Poland, reports that a terrific explosion occurred there to-day in the shop of a chemist. The building was completely shattered, as were also the adjacent houses. Each of the buildings contained several families. Twenty-one persons were killed outright and many others were injured. The explosion is supposed to have been caused by fire reaching the ether in the chemist's shop, a considerable quantity of the drug having been stored on the premises.

FUNERAL OF SIR ANDREW CLARK. London, Nov. 11 .- The funeral took place to-day in Westminster Abbey of Sir Andrew Clark, the distinguished physician, who died on November 6 from the effects of a stroke of apoplexy. Mr. Gladstone was one of the pallbearers.

HANOVER GAMING SCANDAL.

FEW OF THE OFFICERS INVOLVED IN IT TO BE FORCED TO RETIRE FROM THE ARMY.

THE LANDTAG ELECTIONS-DEFEAT OF THE FREISINNIGE PARTY-IRREGULARITIES IN THE PRUSSIAN MILITARY

COMMISSARIAT. (Copurisht, 1893; Bu The United Press.) Berlin, Nov. 11.-Emperor William's desire to make a signal example of the officers involved in the Hanover gambling case appears to have been overruled. In military circles it is maintained that the Emperor cannot directly order the dismissal from the service of the officers concerned, but must act through the regular authorities. It is certain that some influential personages do not take the severe view of the case that the Emperor takes. No authentic list of dismissals has yet been made known, but rumors point to several officers regarding whom the officials at the War Office decline to give any information. The representative of the United Press has been officially informed that the enforced retirements from the army in consequence of the scandal will not be numerous In ascertaining the feeling in high military quarwas generally resented. Military men generally think it would be an enormous injustice to cashier the few officers who testified in the case, while several hundred others, equally involved, escaped. So far as known to the officers concerned, the Emperor's practical action has been limited to communications severely censuring the culprits. His Majesty has also ordered that in future sporting contests officers ride only their own or their comrades' norses, and has forbidden the racing of horses under false names.

also return a stronger delegation than they had at the last session. Forty-seven of the members, all of whom belong to the Conservative party, hold Government appointments. The Freisinnize groups have lost nine seats out of twenty-nine. Fourteen of those remaining to them are held by Richterists, and six by Richterists. The Conservative Journals are jubilant over the result of the elections. They predict that a coalition will force the Government to renounce its economic policy and adopt a renounce its economic policy and adopt a moderately agrarian one, which would mean protective tariffs. The Conservatives have not protective tariffs. The Conservatives have not power enough of themselves to effect reactionary legislation, and a majority of the House must be formed by a coalition with the Free Conservatives and National Liberals. Prince Bismarck, upon learning of the Freisinnige defeats, is credited with saying to his chief ranger, Herr Lange, that a new political dawn was beginning to break was beginning to break.

Sensational disclosures are expected touching Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien and other AntiParnellites faithful to Mr. Gladstone except the fear that without him Home Rule would die.

The meeting of Anarchists last night at the South Place Institute will, it is expected, lead to the prosecution of Mowbray, the publisher of the "Commonweal," the organ of the London Anarchists, and Samuels, the editor of that paper. The sentiments expressed by these two men in their speeches were outrageous. In
